North Central Sight Services Hosts First Annual Camp Vision

October 3, 2016, Williamsport, PA – North Central Sight Services, Inc. hosted its first annual Camp Vision on September 30th at Camp Victory, a special camp for special kids, located in Millville, Pa. Camp Vision is a unique camp for visually impaired children and their families. This first group of youngsters enjoyed a weekend packed full of adventures, no matter what the weather had in store.

In attendance was North Central Sight Services super ambassador Mason Chapman, with his mom Megan Rogers and younger brother Christopher. “We had an amazing weekend full of priceless moments and new first experiences, such as rock climbing, zip lining, archery, paddle boating, arts and crafts, faith trail hikes, music, and great company,” said Megan Rogers. “We are grateful for this amazing organization that helps reinforce the fact that there are no limits to what our children can do!”

Creating an experience unlike any other for these children was exactly what North Central Sight Services Program and Services Director, Tracy Haas, had in mind. “Our time at Camp Victory was a phenomenal experience,” says Tracy Haas. “They were truly prepared to help children of every ability and stood right alongside the NCSS staff cheering the children on during activities.”

At Camp Victory they are proud to say that the kids are special and the camp is special. From hosting their first residential campers during the summer of 1994 to more than twenty years later and over 30,000 overnight campers and counselors, Camp Victory knows how to create a memorable experience. Haas states, “We are so thankful to Camp Victory and their staff for helping us to feel completely at home while giving these families once in a lifetime experiences and memories.”

Camp Vision allows North Central Sight Services to touch the lives of so many blind and visually impaired children. Plans are in the works for Camp Vision 2017, with more adventures and memories just waiting to be made.

About Camp Victory: We're proud to say that at Camp Victory, the kids are special, and the camp is special. We planned it that way because we knew that the children who would come here would have many, and diverse, special needs. Children who must live with chronic health problems, physical or mental disabilities, or the aftermath of catastrophic illness, know lifelong challenges. Their lives are controlled and restricted by the daily medications and frequently complex medical treatments they need. The lives of family members are also affected. Camp Victory was planned and built for these children. campvictory.org/
